Fifth Annual Not-So-Silent* Auction & Dinner
Saturday, May 10, 2014
4:30 p.m at the MIHC

*Have you ever known the Irish to be silent, for even a minute?!
It is difficult to list all of the contributions that both Jim and Carole have made over the many years that they have been such an important part of the Maine Irish Heritage Center. Crucial to the creation of the MIHC, Jim served as a Board member for many years, as well as being an integral member of the St. Dom’s School Reunion Committees. His tireless efforts in fundraising for the MIHC resulted in a multitude of donations and gifts for our auctions over many years, and he has continuously used his impressive array of contacts in the community to advance the MIHC’s mission.

Both Carole and Jim have contributed countless hours, days and whole weekends to volunteering at MIHC events: weddings, open houses, holiday fairs, concerts, and many others. Carole’s willingness to staff bake sale tables, sell MIHC merchandise, and to help in any other way is only overshadowed by her many contributions of her amazing Irish soda bread, to which we have all become addicted! Carole has been known to bake her famous bread for us even while she was recovering from surgery, getting around on crutches!

Although Jim is no longer on the Board, he and Carole continue to volunteer at the MIHC, and we can always count on them for their support, their commitment of time and resources, and their love of our building and everything that it means to them. We dedicate this event to you, Jim and Carole, in appreciation for all that you have done and continue to do for the MIHC!
Welcome to the Maine Irish Heritage Center’s 2014 fifth annual Not-So-Silent Auction. This event is our major spring fundraiser, the result of many long hours of volunteer time spent in planning, contacting local businesses and supporters, and making sure that every detail is just perfect. We hope that you enjoy sharing your evening with us.

Irish pubs for many years have been at the heart of Irish communities, acting as grocer, draper, bookmaker, post office, and even undertaker, as well as watering hole. Pubs have housed the celebrations of births, marriages, deaths, birthdays, first communions and confirmations. They are meeting places, places to cheer on your local or national team, to celebrate their victories and mourn their losses. They are places to relax and to socialize.

As the Irish spread throughout the world, they took the ambience of the Irish pub with them. In any location with an Irish presence, the pubs play every bit as central a role as they do in Ireland. In England, Australia and here in the United States, pubs are a home-away-from-home for the Irish diaspora, they are a place to receive information on immigration, to learn of opportunities for employment, to find accommodation and to connect with home. Whether in Ireland or around the globe, the pubs of Ireland remain today as ever much more than bars- they are hubs of Irish culture.

We continue to be the “Not-So-Silent” Auction because, as we all know, there is never a time when people of Irish background are together that there can be anything approaching silence. We love to talk, we love to visit with family, friends and neighbors, and we love to have fun, all at the same time. Tonight’s auction, a combination of live and silent items, promises to be a rousing good time. We hope that you all have something to say, through enthusiastic bidding, and that you say it early and often. Please enjoy the evening, the good company, the friendly competition and the great values. Thank you for supporting MIHC and helping us fulfill our mission.

Our Mission

• To protect, preserve and restore the historic landmark that was formerly St. Dominic’s Church, a hub of early Irish Community in Maine;

• To provide a center for Maine’s diverse communities to share their cultural experience through education, programs and community events;

• To house Maine’s Irish Genealogical Center, Museum, Archives and Library, preserving the story of Irish history in Maine.
The Maine Irish Heritage Center wishes to offer our heartfelt thanks to Michael Connolly, Ph.D., for his many contributions to the MIHC since our inception. Michael, a professor of history and political science at St. Joseph’s College in Standish, has been one of our strongest supporters and we have benefitted immensely from his vast knowledge of all things Irish, his contributions to preserving the voices of Maine’s Irish past, his willingness to share his publications with us, and his commitment to the mission of the MIHC. Michael is the author or editor of several books, including They Change Their Sky: The Irish in Maine and Seated by the Sea and The Maritime History of Portland, Maine and its Irish Longshoremen, both of which he has generously shared so that we could raise funds from their sales. Michael has also served as a volunteer consultant and historian for many events and programs at the MIHC, including the John Ford film festival. He is an enthusiastic supporter of our progress, and we can always count on him to be in attendance at musical and theatrical presentations, lectures, and other celebrations of our cultural offerings. Thank you, Michael, for all you have done to make the MIHC the center of Irish culture that it is today!
Preparing for tonight’s festivities reminds me of the many successes that the Maine Irish Heritage Center has achieved over the past year, all of which have come about due to the efforts of an amazing group of volunteers and supporters. We are so grateful for the skills, talent and hard work of a dedicated group of volunteers, Board members, supporters and community members. Tonight’s event is but one example of many people working together to create an event that serves not only as a fundraiser, but also as an opportunity for friends and family to get together, to catch up on the news and share some laughter, to renew their commitment to their heritage, and to benefit a cause that is dear to all our hearts.

While we are extremely grateful for the efforts of all of the people who donate their time, their expertise, their resources and their good humor to the MIHC, we would like to highlight the contributions of three specific individuals who have been hugely instrumental to our success over the past few years, and who have given us countless hours of volunteer time based on their unflagging commitment to the MIHC serving as a place of culture, scholarship, community and friendship.

Victoria (“Vicky”) Dylewski has a long history with the former St. Dominic’s Church. A graduate of the St. Dom’s School, Vicky returned to Maine a few years ago after a career in the military, and blessed us with her impressive energy and competence by volunteering at the MIHC, working tirelessly for several years managing many of our maintenance tasks and making the building shine, both inside and out. Vicky has things done before others even know that there is a need, and she masterminds and executes such projects as removing all the pew kneelers, managing the kitchen for open houses and other events (earning her the endearing title of “Kitchen Witch”) and supervising the crews of assistants who come to help us from the Cumberland County Jail pre-release program. Her affection for the MIHC is contagious and she passes along her knowledge of its history to everyone who helps her to keep it sparkling. We couldn’t do it without you, Vicky.
Sean Patrick Michael Collins has been our volunteer building maintenance and cleaning guru for over three years. We can count on him to do it all, from shoveling snow (a herculean task this past winter), to lawn care, to chipping ice from our sidewalks. In addition to all of this regular maintenance, he is amazingly responsive to our frequent emergency calls and, as a neighbor, keeps a watchful eye on the MIHC at all times. We can also count on Sean to be on hand for our events and fundraisers, leading the way during setting up and breaking down, working with other volunteers to ensure that everything gets done. Sean will teach a self-defense course this spring, a prelude to his dream of opening his own school. Thank you, Sean, for all you do for us.

Will Dunlay first came to the MIHC when he volunteered to do an energy audit for us about five years ago. He later left Portland, but re-established his connection with us when he returned two years ago; his re-appearance could not have been more timely! Will has been our volunteer engineer consultant, leading the Building Committee through the past year and a half as we acquired a state-of-the-art gas heating system for the whole building. With his experience as Director of Energy and Utilities at his regular job, he provided invaluable expertise as we reviewed proposals, cost estimates, timetables, and helped us to make the right decision about this very important leap forward. It is through Will’s efforts that we can now announce that we have heat in our entire building, which will allow us to use the sanctuary year-round. We are delighted to have Will continue on our Building Committee and to give so generously of his time and expertise – thank you!

We hope that you have a wonderful evening. In addition to the lovely array of items that you can take home if you’re the successful bidder, please also enjoy the intangible treasures of the evening - old and new friends, a good meal, shared memories, and lots of laughter.

As always, with gratitude and sincere affection,

Mary McAleney

Congratulations

We wish to congratulate Matthew Jude Barker, our resident historian and genealogist, on his long-awaited book published by The History Press. The Irish of Portland, Maine: A History of Forest City Hibernians, describes The journeys and stories of a small group of early arrivals who faced hardship and discrimination. The Portland Irish, a 19th century community of domestics, longshoremen, teachers, laborers, homemakers, shopkeepers, nurses and policemen, grew into a powerful statewide political force. Autographed copies are available for purchase.
The Maine Irish Heritage Center is honored that Governor Joseph E. Brennan has named the MIHC as the repository for his archives. Governor Brennan, son of Irish immigrants, was born in Portland and served Maine and the Nation for his entire life.

Governor Brennan was a key architect of modern Maine’s government. During his two terms as governor he created the Finance Authority of Maine; instituted the Maine Education Assessment, the first statewide standardized testing of elementary and high school students; instituted the first home care for the elderly program; instituted the first seat belt safety laws; negotiated the first contracts with the new union representing state workers; protected the water quality and visual appearance of Maine’s most important rivers; controlled health cost inflation through an innovative hospital cost containment effort; greatly expanded programs to address child abuse. He was a pioneer in strengthening OUI laws, established the Commission to reform the University of Maine System, and successfully defended and resolved the Indian Land Claim case.

We are grateful that the Governor has selected the MIHC to share, protect and preserve his legacy for future generations to learn from and by which they may be inspired.

A committee has been formed to lead the project. They are looking for any and all public service or campaign memorabilia, photos or vignettes. Nancy Brenerman is willing to collect these items. Nancy may be reached at 207-797-9298 to learn how you can help. Financial contributions are welcome as well.
Auction Rules

Values listed in this program and on bid sheets are estimates only, and may not reflect actual value. We have endeavored to describe items carefully and correctly, but the MIHC provides no warranties with respect to the items offered. All items are sold as is and all sales are final.

Payment is expected before the items may be removed from the MIHC. Payment may be by cash, check, or credit card. Large items may be left at the MIHC awaiting a later pickup, as long as arrangements are made with MIHC representatives. The MIHC does not provide transportation for auction items.

To bid on silent auction items, you must write your name, your bidder number and your bid on the bid sheet. Please note that many of items have minimum bids and may be withdrawn if the minimum bid is not met. Should the highest bid for a silent item be disqualified for any reason, the next lower bid will be deemed to be the winning bid. The silent auction tables will close from 6:15-6:45 and an announcement will be made several minutes before the tables close.

The live auction will begin at 7:30. Some items have reserve bids and may be withdrawn if the reserve level is not met. The auctioneer is the final authority for live auction item bidding.

A YEAR OF IRISH BREAD
The lucky winner will receive a freshly baked loaf of brown soda bread every month for the entire year. Ann Marie Chandler will provide the bread which has been made in her family for over 100 years. Her grandmother, Annie Crowley Folan, from Barna outside of Galway City, immigrated in 1910 bringing the recipe with her. Ann Marie, who was named after her grandmother, makes this family recipe without measuring just as her grandmother did. With two secret ingredients it is a nice twist on the traditional Irish soda bread. You will not be disappointed.

ROCKING CHAIR DONATED BY THE FAMILY OF DAVID SOULE
David Soule’s oak rocking chair was given to him by one of his many friends. The chair was one of David’s favorites; when he saw the chair he imagined his relatives in Ireland sitting around the hearth with a fire and a perfectly steeped cup of tea with either a scone or slice of Irish bread telling stories. Take this chair home and you will hear the stories and savor the tea.

CLIMB TO THE TOP OF PORTLAND HEAD LIGHT
This unique experience for 10 people includes a climb to the top of Portland Head Light to see the interior of the light and marvel at the spectacular view of Casco Bay. You may also enjoy a lunch of Portland’s famous Italian sandwiches with $50 of Amato’s gift certificates.
SAIL ON CASCO BAY
Spend an afternoon sailing beautiful Casco Bay! Pete Clifford, will host up to 4 guests on his Pearson 33 foot sloop, “Riparian,” which is moored at the Portland Yacht Club. The date is flexible and will be determined by mutual agreement. If weather on proposed day is rainy, cold, too windy, or not windy enough, the Cap’n will allow the crew to pick a new date. Note from the Captain: Flogging of the crew was outlawed by the Geneva Convention in 1919, so the lucky bidder can expect to be treated in a humane and respectful manner.
